

Adfinis SyGroup and Mattermost celebrate their one-year partnership

Berne, 9th October 2018

Since 2017 Adfinis SyGroup is official value-added reseller for the secure, real time messaging platform Mattermost. As part of the partnership, subscriptions and services for the Mattermost enterprise messaging solutions can be obtained directly from Adfinis SyGroup.

The provider of the eponymous team communications solution, Mattermost, and the Swiss IT service provider Adfinis SyGroup, celebrate their one-year partnership. The partnership had good prerequisites for success, as Mattermost and Adfinis SyGroup complement each other perfectly. The enterprise messaging software Mattermost is based on an open source platform and delivers the highest standards of quality and security for business users. The product integration expertise of Adfinis SyGroup represents a new point of contact for European customers of Mattermost, increasing its international presence and ensuring optimal support for its ever-growing user community.

As part of the partnership, Adfinis SyGroup offers customized services concerning the integration and connection of Mattermost to existing peripheral systems and assists in the maintenance and care as well as 24/7 operations support of the solution. Additionally, the current market situation is reason for the launch of a joint product, focusing on managed service and migration – more information about the details are coming soon.

„We choose our partners carefully. We see Adfinis SyGroup, as one of the most prestigious open source experts in the European market,“ says Ian Tien CEO and co-founder of Mattermost. „Both of our companies share a commitment to open standards and technologies and also the pursuit of innovation and dedication to uncompromising quality“.

Nicolas Christener, CEO of Adfinis SyGroup says: “Mattermost is the perfect addition to our wide range of on-premise solutions for collaboration and communications. Data security and vendor-neutrality are two of our top priorities and Mattermost has both. Since we use the team chat in our own business, we are familiar with the extensive range of functions Mattermost has to offer and we are delighted by the rapid pace of progress our partner is making in development.”

Mattermost instant includes the following benefits:

- No loss of information – in contrast to proprietary SaaS solutions, Mattermost is a self-hosted solution that is ideally suited for exchanging sensitive data; Messages stay in your own company’s network at all times.
- The highest security standards – Mattermost offers a complete audit trail, enterprise authentication integration as well as policy based message filters.

- Custom solutions and webhooks – Mattermost enables you to connect various applications and peripheral systems, so it can be tailored to individual needs and desires.
- Communication independent of device and location – web, mobile and PC client.
